

<http://www.bbc.co.uk/learningzone/clips/ronaldo-crashes-his-ferrari/6171.html>

Who's this? And what's this thing? And what's the connection between them?

Watch the news report: What's the story about?

Who?

What?

Where?

When?

How?

Why?

Listen again for the words connected with car accidents

Around £200,000 worth of _____ metal, the front of R's Ferrari was turned to _____.

The accident _____ in the tunnel at Manchester Airport.

The road is well-covered

Ronaldo's team mate Edwin Van der Saar wasn't involved in the _____.

The police _____ the road, and took the car _____.

Police Officers are appealing for _____

Next

Prepare to retell the anecdote to your friend or study partner.

Check your answers

Around £200,000 worth of twisted metal, the front of Ronaldo's Ferrari was turned to scrap.
The accident happened in the tunnel at Manchester Airport.
The road is well-covered by closed circuit television.
Ronaldo's team mate Edwin Van der Saar wasn't involved in the collision.
The police closed the road, and took the car away.
Police Officers are appealing for witnesses.