

Finish the sentences with the best conjunction

_____ he was rich he lived a relatively simple life.

_____ it was raining, they cancelled the picnic.

We'll go out _____ it stops raining.

_____ she got well paid she didn't mind what she had to do.

_____ she didn't have a car she could afford to go by taxi more often.

I wouldn't go out with her _____ you paid me.

I'll give you £5 _____ you do me a favour.

He's a marvellous painter _____ being almost blind.

Take a torch with you _____ it gets dark.

We went for a swim _____ the water was freezing.

She'll be an excellent teacher _____ she's had a bit more experience.

_____ they don't do anything stupid they should win tonight's match easily.

I couldn't lend him any money _____ I was practically broke myself.

He bought a new suit _____ he could make a good impression.

It was so cold _____ the lake froze.

_____ he arrives soon we'll have to go without him.

Everyone has to die _____ they like it or not.

_____ you do, James, don't upset her!

_____ it rains a lot my roof starts to leak.

I always feel like dancing _____ I see a Fred Astaire film.

Check your answers – there may be other possibilities.

Although he was rich he lived a relatively simple life.

As it was raining, they cancelled the picnic.

We'll go out as soon as it stops raining.

As long as she got well paid she didn't mind what she had to do.

Because she didn't have a car she could afford to go by taxi more often.

I wouldn't go out with her even if you paid me.

I'll give you £5 if you do me a favour.

He's a marvellous painter in spite of being almost blind.

Take a torch with you in case it gets dark.

We went for a swim even though the water was freezing.

She'll be an excellent teacher once she's had a bit more experience.

Provided that they don't do anything stupid they should win tonight's match easily.

I couldn't lend him any money since I was practically broke myself.

He bought a new suit so that he could make a good impression.

It was so cold that the lake froze.

Unless he arrives soon we'll have to go without him.

Everyone has to die whether they like it or not.

Whatever you do, James, don't upset her!

When it rains a lot my roof starts to leak.

I always feel like dancing whenever I see a Fred Astaire film.